The Future

Thursday January 25

That's today folks and you all know by now what happens on Thursdays. That's right, it's Pub Night.This will be the second pub held in the pub's new home and if it's anything like last week's you should not miss it. We will have some sort of sound system, and perhaps there might again be some entertainment, whether it be singers, dancers, dancing bears or other animals. (see the story elsewhere in this issue for a clue on what to expect.) The last few weeks we have been missing some of the regulars that kept us in business in our old home in the Upper Cafeteria. You know who you are and so do we so come on out on Thursday night (tonight).

Friday January 26
Saturday January 27

Need we remind you once again that this is the Winter Carnival weekend, featuring movies all Friday night starting about 10:30 pm, a pub from 3:00 pm that afternoon and then performers in the meeting place on Friday night.

There will be sports events etc. and a car rally on Saturday in the daytime. As well there will be performers in the Coffee Shop (the new coffee shop in the new building) all afternoon.

Of course at 8:30 pm on Saturday night Murray McLauchlan will be playing in the Meeting Place, something that no on one should miss.

It should be a super weekend. Tickets are on sale for $3.00 in front of the Cafeteria and will also be available at the door on both Friday and Saturday nights. If you just come to see Murray McLauchlan it will still cost you $3.00 so why not be here for the whole weekend.

Wednesday Jan.31

At 3:30 pm there will be an official sod turning for the new residences to be constructed in the woods just to the east of the College, in the woods beside the big gravel parking lot. Guests will be gathering in the new cafeteria R-2704 and then be moving to the site as a group. A good chance to get a glimpse of all your heroes or other people you might never have seen before or will see again.

Sometime This Week

Coffee Shop Manager Bob Fick hopes that the coffee shop in the new wing (the same room as the pub is in on Thursday night) will be open some time this week. Current problems centre around the lack of a sound system for the shop,but perhaps it might be an idea opening it even without any music for it would be better to pay 15¢ for your pop rather than get ripped for 20¢ by the newly installed Coke machine in the new building. The only way to find out if it is open is to go and check.Hours should be 10:00 am to 10:00 pm Monday to Thursday, and 10:00 am to 5:00 pm on Fridays.

For Sale This Week

For sale in the Student Council Office this week is the SAC Student Directory for 50¢. Get the phone numbers of all the chicks you have been chasing for the first six months of the year.

At a meeting on Monday morning in the Council Chamber the Scarborough College Services Committee of the College Council, decided on transportation and Parking policies for the 1973-1974 year. The decisions reached at this Committee meeting must be approved by the College Council.

The Committee listened to the recommendations of Principal Campbell and then voted to accept his proposals. Therefore the parking policy presented to College Council for its approval, will be as follows.

Lot D (the lot across Ellesmere Road from the College)will be expanded to park approximately 430 cars, and there will be no charge for parking in that area.

Lot R (the half lot that is right beside the new Recreation Complex) and part of Lot A,(the first complete lot east of the Recreation Complex) will be reserved parking with stickers sold for parking at this lot at either $40.00 or $45.00 for the academic year.

Lot B (the big gravel lot) and Lot C the last paved lot, furthest away from the Recreation building, will be controlled by a series of gates.Parking will operate on a 35¢ per day basis, with the money being deposited in a thing similar to a toll booth (or if you go to Scarbrough General Hospital you will see the same type of operation at work.)

It is hoped that this system will operate with only one attendant, thereby reducing the costs. The plan, if accepted by College Council, will allow the parking operations at the College to break even.As well, in an attempt to reduce the costs of the operation, plans to pave the gravel lot and install improved lighting in some of the lots have been shelved.

The plan was a significant improvement over the original proposals submitted at the meeting held a week ago Monday. At that time it was thought that there should be several stages of permits issued at various costs from $20.00, right up to $75.00.

At the same meeting it was decided that the Transportation policy of the College will remain essentially the same in the coming year. Bus services will still operate to and from the Main Campus and Warden subway station.

As well as the continuation of all existing bus runs, there will also be an early morning shuttle from the main campus but it is not yet decided whether the bus will leave at 8:15 or 9:15 from Convocation Hall. As well it has been proposed that the commuter bus from Warden alter its route so that it can make stops in the Guildwood GO station in the morning and the afternoon.If it seems that a lot of people will make use of the Guildwood stop it can be easily be rerouted to make more stops at the GO station.

These plans are all conditional upon acceptance by the final body, the College Council. Until that time I am sure that the Chairman of the Services Committee Larry Sadler would be interested in any opinions that you might have based upon the suggestions contained in this article.

thoughts on editing a newspaper

Here I am sitting typing all this on a sunny Sunday afternoon, coughing my way to a slow death. Actually I was afraid for a while that I might not be able to do an issue this week, but no such luck. I recovered very quickly from the depths of illness at the pub on Thursday night and in the process discovered a secret remedy for the flu and sore throats that I will reveal for a nominal fee. However I'm glad that I am recovering for I wouldn't want to miss the Winter Carnival coming up this weekend.

Starting off this second issue, I would like to thank those people who helped out last week in one way or another.

First of all to Rick Rigelhof over in Graphics who took the time to show me how to use a machine that lets me do all the headings for the paper without wasting hours with Letraset.I would also like to thank him for letting me use it for free; something that sure does help when you exist on a limited budget.

Also thanks go to Jackie and Ollie who at various times helped cut out things and generally offered advice.

There must be some others but I can't think of them at this minute.

This week Dennis Chattaway continues his discussion of the staff advisor proposals that came recently from College Council. As well there is an anonymous article about the December meeting of the College Council that I found in my drawer of the filing cabinet. I don't have a clue who wrote it and generally don't like publishing anonymous material but thought I might as well this time as I am rather short of copy (again!).Which is a convenient way of reminding you that I am always on the lookout for copy so if you have written anything that you might like published, just throw it in my drawer in the filing cabinet in the back part of the Student Council office, but please do sign it, so we all know who to credit.

In known material, Ireceived a letter from Student Council President Dave Onley that is reproduced here following my great efforts to decipher his handwriting.

There are also pictures in this issue that were taken by me and another person that I don't know. They were developed and printed by Ron Murray and are supposed to be shots of last Friday night's basketball game between S.C. and the Argos. More pictures will appear in these pages in the future I hope.

I guess some help is gradually coming to join me in the production of the paper. I think Iain McLean is helping me lay out and paste up the paper.

I don't think there is much else to say this week so I hope everyone comes out to Winter Carnival and has a great time.

The coffee shop is open today and it is the same room as the Pub on Thursday nights so why not drop over for some 15¢ pop, or coffee.

So long, at last. It's been a long time coming. Back in 1971 when the old Balcony Square was stopped the good ol' Student Council said it would start a new newspaper. After two years (long time, government works slow don't you know) we've got a new paper. It's still called Balcony Square. In fact its still got the same problems. Just a few people working, that's the problem.

Hey look, I've been Prez for two years and I've found the answer. It's people. There's not many things we can't do as a College. But its all up to you. You, the guy or girl who's hung up about remnant pimples, courses, what you're going to do if your numero uno gives you the boot; it's up to you.

You want a better time? You want something out of this qualified mess called education? You want that? Some sense out of disorder? You want that too? Then why don't you learn that if you don't put out, you're not going to get anything back. It's just like a course -- work like a dog and you'll be all right. Sit silent and nothing will happen.

We've done an awful lot in two years More than anyone could have hoped.But if we don't keep "putting out" in clubs, in the SCSC, in the SCAA, in everything that makes Scarborough special, then we're going to go nowhere.

Come on give this place a fighting chance to make or break itself. At least give it the chance to fail. We need people. People of all types. Come on, step up, swallow hard. Because if we don't we have no one to blame when things get botched. If we don't no one will.

David Onley
President
Student Council

Dear hearts and gentle readers, this is the third of a series of personal commentary upon the visicitudes of political life. If you are wondering what happened to number two, you can rest assured that it has been deposited in the round file, simply because what it said is no longer applicable.

After many discussions and arguments with numerous people I have finally achieved an iota of success in my fight against compulsory academic advisors.At the next meeting of the Scarborough College Council, Dave Onley, incase you don't know, he is the President of the Student Council, will put forth a motion to modify the system as it now stands.

This, I figure, is a magnificent achievement since I have been the only person who has been actively objecting to the present system. However the game is not over. The motion must yet be passed and our representatives need to know what the students want. Unless you wish to be slaves to the system notify the reps as to what you want: a compulsory advisory system or a voluntary one. The students on the General Policy Committee are Mike Manford, Glenn Conduit, and Dave Onley. However it is often difficult to find these people even if you know whom to speak to. Just come up to the Student Council office and tell Onley himself or add your name to the list that I will attempt to have in a conspicuous spot.

Don't forget it means your freedom from oppression . . .

College Council

On December 13, 1972 at the College Council meeting a travesty took place. Not your ordinary farce, expected of a gaggle of academics trying to decide their way out of the proverbial wet paper bag; on no, this was a real sham. First College Council consists of all Profs etc. who by divine right have a vote and consists of student and non-academic staff who have to be elected. The College Council is the final voice of Scarborough College, its voice is final.

Anyway, back to the meeting. There were many items on the agenda. Among them were whether or not we would have a full credit system at Scarborough (take as many courses as you want, or as few, summer or fall or winter). And the entire course selection for '73-'74 was to be debated. The Council Chamber was packed. People everywhere: on the floor, in the balcony. It really made you feel great. All these Profs. really concerned about you and me.

Then the meeting began and it was clear why the place was packed. They were upset about their offices.That's

Pierre Sets Pace as New Pub Opens

Former Pollution Probe Scarborough printer Pierre Coté set a fast and furious pace as the new pub opened in the new building last Thursday night. Long time pub regulars could see by as early as 6:00 pm that Pierre was in top form and would probably reach new heights,for this the official pub opening. Alternating between serving customers behind the bar and dancing up a storm on the improvised dance floor, Pierre was standing still for no more than a few seconds at a time.Although it will be a long time before regulars forget his stirring performance with the Fox in the Upper Cafeteria, Pierre certainly set the pace for an evening that all who attended will long remember.

The opening of the new pub seemed to meet with the approval of everyone in attendance. Beer sales were much higher than at any pub in the Upper Cafeteria except for the infamous Oktoberfest celebration. If the good sales of the first week continue then there is a good chance that the pub will operate for more than just one night per week. Good attendance and consumption at this week's pub will help advance the plan to open the pub more than one night per week.

Entertainment last Thursday was provided by Arnold Celcsi, a folk singer who has recently become almost a Scarborough College regular performer.His music was well received although one must wonder how many people were in any condition to remember his final set, other than Pierre who enjoyed him immensly.

Special thanks should go out to all the patient people who worked behind the bar and also to slacker for helping everyone out of a jam.

The only casualty of the evening was the hardwood floor that for some incredible reason had been installed in the pub. As earlier predicted by almost everyone the floor was fairly well scratched and scuffed, but what else could be expected.

right folks, their offices. Were they about to be burned? Were the offices about to be sacked? Were the Professors about to be sent out into the winter ice and snow? Had Nixon declared Professors' offices as bombing targets? No folks, none of that.They were upset because three (count 'em, three),(that's one hand). Three offices were going to be mixed. That's right kiddies, three Humanities offices were going to be mixed with three Social Sciences offices. WOW!!!!

So they proceeded to move that item to the first item on the agenda. Overruled the Chairman; took two hours of debate and then, then decided things weren't that bad and after all the peasants are still starving in Bolivia, and went on to the second item on the agenda. This was huge.

There was only one problem. They all got up and left. No quorum to discuss the credit system and the courses. No quorum. No meeting. Fortunately no one called for a quorum count and our lives were saved. The matters were passed.

But it makes you think, it really does.

what really happens in the student council office

Did you know that $13.00 out of your fees goes to the S.C.S.C? Did you know that this along with SAC rebates gives the Scarborough College Student Council a budget of almost $30,000.00!! I bet you didn't know that.

Let's reminice for a moment and consider what the S.C.S.C. has done for you this year.

Yes, residences will be built and ready for next fall but is this the result of the S.C.S.C., or can this great feat be attributed to one, Ross Flowers, who did most of the work and the S.C.S.C. took the credit? I think that the latter would be more correct.

Rumour has it that we are supposed to have hitching posts, in order to thumb a ride home. This rumour has been circulating since September and I've even personally seen the signs sitting in the S.C.S.C. office. Maybe my eyesight is getting poor, but I haven't seen any hitching posts yet, have you?????

Also, last Spring the S.C.S.C. bought $4,000.00 worth of duplicating equipment. (Or so I'm told.) I bet you didn't know that!!

Other than the Photocopier which costs 5¢ per page (quite reasonable I'd say,)where and how is the rest of the equipment being used? I would presume that such things as posters are made with this machinery, but what about us students? Can we use this equipment? We paid for it. . .

I've also heard about a typing room being set up. I haven't seen one yet, have you??

Oh yes, that was some book exchange that the S.C.S.C. set up. One could choose from about 50 books. Quite a selection. I think that setting up a book exchange in mid-September is slightly late. Try May.

Also I've been told that about six people worked for the S.C.S.C. during the summer. Other than the Handbook, what did they do???

Also I haven't seen anyone selling the Hustlers Handbooks yet this year. In fact I haven't even seen the Handbooks around the College anywhere.

Now lets not be unfair. The Tom Rush Concert was a success thanks to Norm Hacking and friends. All the S.C. did was buy a few parachutes at the cost of about $50.00 each, in order to cut down the sound reverberation. Well if you were at the concert you know that this didn't work. Oh well what's $100.00 down the drain.

These are the things that I've heard about through the grapevine, but what about the things one never hears about?? Makes you wonder doesn't it. It should !!! It's your money!!

You know it's very easy to sit back and complain, but what have you done to change the situation? Probably as little as I have. But, I'm graduating this spring so there's not too much that I can do. But if you're planning to be around the College for a while, find out what's going on. It's for your own benefit. It's up to you to know how your money is being spent.

The Student Council elections should be coming up pretty soon. THINK ABOUT IT.

SPORTS PAGE

This past week has seen full use of our gym and pub facilities with a successful athletic week. We even played host to our men's interfaculty basketball team. Our team coached by jumping Jon Dullandrea drilled the Dents team with basket upon basket, led by high scorer Doug Snow, defeating Dents by well over 20 points.

The game was followed Friday, with not so easy but nevertheless success. Scarborough's team padded by half of the Varsity team, Dave Watt, Scott, etc., played an extremely hard fought game against the Toronto Argonauts. Though the Argos did play a close game (final score was 73-69 for Scarborough) I couldn't help feeling that I was still watching a field game, because the checking was quite rough, particularly in the third quarter when Thornton took a cheap shot at high scoring Scott, knocking him solidly to the floor. Scott, quite upset by the knock, refused the helping hand of Theisman as could be expected. It was a particularly rough and unfortunately boring game despite the efforts of Eric (The Flea) Allen to add some action to the game with his fast footwork and astounding handwork. I honestly felt that the game was too serious and competitive. I was expecting a more relaxed entertaining exhibition, rather than such a tight game. Nevertheless both teams played well, and the Varsity boys should be thanked for taking such a chance in mid-season.

Oh, by the way, I would also like to thank scorer and timer, Bev and Hardy for the superb work done in keeping matters straight between the teams and the lifeless audience

Previous to this game was an exciting soccer match between faculty and students proving once more that students are definitely superior as they blitzed our our sacred Profs. 8-0. Perhaps their feet don't work as fast as they used to for the faculty was outshot by the students 28-9. Anthony Scopa and Desmond McCann were top scorers with 2 a piece.

During the week the girls hockey team suffered their first defeat when they were iced over by Seneca College 10-4. This proved a bit of a shocker as they remain undefeated in interfaculty play with such scores as 14-0, 10-0, etc. Let's hope that this was a temporary serback that they will overcome before their next game.

The women's volleyball team travelled down to the Benson Building on Tuesday to wipe St. Michael's 15-4, 10-15, 15-6 and then to be beaten by Food Science in a squeaker 14-16, 15-13 and 16-14. Better luck next time when playing Glendon College in an invitational tournament on Wednesday.

The squash courts are in heavy use at present and I must emphasize that they should be reserved a day in advance. If you do want a particular time however you would be wise to sign up at least two days before..

Within the past week female response to the new wing has gone up considerably. The women's fitness classes are packed and our sauna and exercise rooms have been tested by many inquiring students. To help bring guys and girls together, co-ed volleyball tournaments will begin on a regular bas basis this Friday between 10-11 am and 1-2 pm due to the success of the tournament held last Tuesday.

All in all things are going quite well. Oh yes, by the way, the gym will now be open on Sundays till 12:00 noon so none of you have any excuse for not indulging in this new luxury installation.

See you next week.
